Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 28-33 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of double patenting over claims 1-27 of U. S. Patent No. 6652430 since the claims, if allowed, would improperly extend the "right to exclude" already granted in the patent.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the patent and is covered by the patent since the patent and the application are claiming common subject matter, as follows: a frame, a seat, a thigh engagement device, thigh positioning device, a lumbar positioning device and adjustment means.

Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant was prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application during prosecution of the application, which matured into a patent. See In re Schneller, 397 F.2d 350, 158 USPQ 210 (CCPA 1968). See also MPEP § 804.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

4. Claims 28-33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Batca et al. Batca et al disclose an apparatus having a frame (20), seat (34) and thigh engagement device (71;col. 3, lines 55-56). Regarding the language, “for a training apparatus in which an individual performs bending movements about the hip axis”, “for contacting and restraining an upper surface of a thigh of an individual utilizing such training apparatus and seated on said seat such that a buttocks portion of such individual is in contact with said upper surface of said seat” has not been given patentable weight because the recitation is purely functional in nature and does not recite any structure. As to claim 29, the limitation “said thigh engagement surface” has not been given patentable weight because the surface has not been positively recited in the independent claim. As to claim 30, further including positioning means (58). Regarding the language, “for selectively adjusting at least one of a height of said thigh bolster relative to said seat and a horizontal distance of said thigh bolster relative to said seat” has not been given patentable weight because the recitation is purely functional in nature and does not recite any structure. As to claim 31, further including a lumbar positioning device (24). Regarding the language, “for contacting and positioning a lumbar region of an individual utilizing said training machine and seated on said seat such that a buttocks portion of such individual is in contact with said upper surface of said seat” has not been given patentable weight because the recitation is purely functional in nature and does not recite any structure. As to claim 32, including a lumbar bolster (37). As to claim 33, including a lumbar positioning adjustment means (36).
